ABSTRACT

Material in this document has been prepared to assist teachers using the Sullivan Programmed Reading Series and to make the program more applicable to the needs of children with exceptional educational needs. The format of the series provides activity orientation (response, reward, repetition), gradual progression from easy to difficult words, gradual progression from words to paragraphs, and application to individualized instruction. Contents consist of sections on graphs and charting, the Clark Vocabulary Placement Test, sound progression, student wordlist worksheets, and student record wordlists. Suggested instructions are provided for each section. (JM)

INTRODUCTION

This material has been prepared to assist teachers who are using the Sullivan Programmed Reading Series to help children learn to read. The purpose of this supplement is to make the Sullivan Programmed Reading Series more applicable to the needs of children with Exceptional Educational needs.

The programmed format of Sullivan Reading Series has a number of advantages:

1. Activity oriented--3 R's--response, reward, repetition.
2. Gradual progression from easy to difficult words.
3. Gradual progression from words to paragraphs.
4. Lends itself to individualized instruction.

Instructions have been provided for each section. These instructions are only suggested procedures. Vary them to fit the individual's needs.

The material in this book is being provided so that the classroom teacher may have it duplicated, compliments of C.E.S.A. #13. It is not copyrighted. If there is good here, we want to share it.

Graphs and Charting

General Information

1. Each child has a set of graphs--three book graphs, one word graph.
2. After completing each half of the book, the child or the teacher should record:
   a. Date
   b. Color in the appropriate section
   c. Color to match book cover

Justification for Use

1. Graphs not only record each child's accomplisments, but also show the date in which they occurred.
2. Graphs are visual proof of the child's progress which can be easily explained to the parents at conference time.
3. Graphs are positive reinforcement for the child, teacher, and parent.
4. Graphs are visual proof of the child's progress which can be easily explained to the child. "Showing how good he is doing."

The Clark Vocabulary Placement Test consists of a sampling of vocabulary words presented in each book of the Sullivan Programmed Reading Series. The Vocabulary Placement Test is to be administered to individual children in determining tentative placement in the Sullivan Series. The test consists of a teacher's copy (yellow) and a student's copy (gold).

DIRECTIONS FOR ADMINISTERING THE CLARK VOCABULARY PLACEMENT TEST:

1. Place student's name, examiner's name, and the date at the top of the teacher's copy.

2. Give the student his copy of the test (gold).

3. This is a word test. Explain to the student that the words get progressively more difficult as he goes down each page. Encourage him to do the best he can.

   Instruct the student as follows:

   I would like to see how many of these words you can name.

   Start here (pointing to "a"). Look at each word carefully and say it aloud. Read the words aloud across the page (pointing to each word in top line, left to right), so I can hear you.

   When you finish the first line, go on to the next line (pointing to "had") and then the next.

   Continue this way to the bottom of the page.

   When the student reaches the bottom of the page, instruct him to turn the page and continue as before.

   Allow the student no more than 15 seconds to pronounce each word. It is acceptable for the student to sound out and then produce the whole word within the 15-second time limit.

4. Record each student's responses on the teacher's copy in the following manner:

   a. If a child mispronounces a word or substitutes another word, cross it out and write the word he said above.

   b. If he does not attempt a word or says, "I don't know," Encourage him to try to sound it out.

c. "Try the word anyway, or take a guess at it." If he still does not make an attempt, circle the word.

d. When the child makes five consecutive errors, stop.

5. Tentative placement is determined in the following manner:

   Ten words are presented from each book in the Sullivan Series. The teacher's copy is numbered to clarify placement.

   When the child has made five consecutive errors, refer to the Sullivan Programmed Reading word lists (white copies).

   Instruct the child to read the word list for the book preceding the book in which the child made five errors on the Clark Vocabulary Test. (For example, if the child made five errors in Book 8, use word list for Book 7.)

   If the student does not complete the word list with 90% accuracy, he is to be placed at the beginning of the book. If the child reads the word list with a minimum of 90% accuracy, proceed to the next word list. Accuracy is determined by dividing total possible responses into correct responses.

   The child is to begin reading in the book in which he cannot read the word list with 90% accuracy, allowing the child 15 seconds to produce each word.

6. Please note "tentative placement." The author recognizes the fact that a particular student may move ahead or back after several days during which time the classroom teacher becomes more familiar with the child and/or the student has the opportunity to adjust.

Student Wordlist Worksheet

Instructions

1. The child's word development should remain at least ten words ahead of his reading assignment at all times.

2. Draw a line under the word to let the child know where he should stop.

3. The teacher should say each word orally and have the child repeat each word.

4. The child should review each word by himself. When he thinks he knows all the words up to the stop line, he should raise his hand.

5. The teacher should have the child say each word out loud.

6. If the child misses a word, the teacher puts a tally mark after the word.

7. If the teacher is satisfied with the word list, the child then proceeds to his independent reading assignment in his textbook.

8. If the child continuously misses a word (as indicated by the number of tally marks), the teacher may want to place this word on a 3 x 5 card in large letters.

9. After the child has completed a wordlist, he should proceed to the next wordlist. The completed wordlist may be sent home to the parents. This enables the parent to help the child maintain his vocabulary.

10. The completed wordlist can be used as the child's individualized spelling list.

STUDENT RECORD WORDLIST

INSTRUCTIONS

1. After the child completes a book, he should be given the wordlist for that book.

2. Record the date at the top of the column.

3. Use the following standards for giving and scoring the Sullivan Wordlists:

   a. Each child is told to say the words he knows--loudly, clearly, and slowly--starting at the top of the first column and going down.

   b. The time allowed for pronouncing each word should be five seconds.

   c. The criteria on which a child is given credit for knowing a word and scoring are as follows:

      1. Mark (✓) if he pronounces it upon sight.

      2. Mark (X) if he sounds it out and then pronounces it on first trial within the time limit.

      3. Mark (-) if he corrects himself immediately after miscalling it, and then pronounces it correctly within the time limit.

      4. Mark (O) for no response or incorrect response.

4. After the wordlist is given, the teacher counts the incorrect responses and subtracts that number from the total possible responses (number in upper right corner of each wordlist), and the teacher then has the number of correct responses. Next the teacher should divide the total possible responses into the number of correct responses. The result is the percentage correct.

5. If the percentage correct is 90% or above, the child proceeds to the next book.

6. If the percentage correct is below 90%, the teacher should reprogram the child in the textbook.

7. It may not be necessary for the child to re-read the entire textbook. Look for the point where the child began having difficulty on the wordlist. After identifying this point, the teacher can check the Student Wordlist Worksheet for the corresponding page number and reprogram the child several pages prior to this point in the textbook.

8. Wordlist should be kept in student folder.
